A World of a Difference
George W. Jorgenson Jr., son of a Bronx carpenter, served in the Army [A] for two years and was given honorable discharge in 1946. Now George is no more. After six operations, Jorgenson's sex has been changed and today she is a striking woman [←], working as a photographer in Denmark. Parents were informed of the big change in a letter Christine (that's her new name) sent to them recently. —Story on page 3

WHAT HAVE I LEARNT WHEN PREPARING THIS?

- DON'T TRY AND SUMMARISE ALL OF HISTORY IN 20 SLIDES
- ADMIRE THE PEOPLE WITH THE COURAGE TO SPEAK OUT

ANY QUESTIONS ?
